MISSION / HISTORY

The Double "Q" Foundation, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization established to provide financial assistance for underprivileged children enabling them to attend summer diabetic camps in Indiana and to help educate them about their disease in a fun and healthy environment. The name Double "Q" is in honor of identical twin sisters, Paige Quakenbush Frawley and Susan Quakenbush Goldstein, who both live with Type 1 (juvenile) diabetes. Through their parents, Paige and Susan were able to receive proper care and education about their disease. Many children are not fortunate enough to have these resources. With your help, our organization helps to provide assistance to as many children as possible.

DOUBLE "Q" SUCCESS

Since our inaugural event in 2003
